... Maybe. Maybe not. I like all of my ideas so it is hard to pick and context for what the stretch goal eras gamelines will be could influence my decision. I certainly open to suggestions because I'm not all knowing and can't think of every angle. But being told that something "must" happen repeatedly is a good way to make sure I don't do that. Especially if it's for an expansion I've said I have no interest in. I imagine the other expansion backers feel similarly.

I'm sure you will gain greater clarity when you hear what the other expanders kf darkness and creator of darkness choose.

If that happens before we choose expansion. It may not. We'll have to see.

I did say mostly made up. You've shown us the list and everything.

But I left out the 'add a gameline to an era' people because they don't even know what eras are available until the resurrect an era that lost people pick theirs, so clearly your list may change. Since those polls are over, though, the resurrectionists have got their options narrowed down.

Have people been insisting you add someone to something? Aside from wyrdhamster's post, I mean.

Hmm...I wonder about when we'll learn about the mystery gamelines.

Looking back at the DE1 KS, they only revealed what got backer expansions and what were the backer-resurrected eras much later: 1 month after the KS ended for DE1, 2 months for DEC1. So not an immense stretch of time, but still hefty.

Granted the circumstances here for DE2 are a bit...different. Since the bulk of the Stretch Goal voting was on Eras but not on the gamelines attached to them. And has been noted multiple times in this and the regular DE2 thread, the backers who the expansion and resurrection slots, they can't reasonably make their decisions until they know what gamelines are going to the Stretch Goal Eras. So who knows.

I'll doubt it will be that chaotic, that could lead to People choose the same era with the same splat and other odd thiings.

I would like to second this plugging. I like the idea of Beasts getting hunted to near-extinction by Heroes in a setting where such witch-hunts are normalized, while the real big bad guys are laughing it up in Wall Street and spreading the prosperity gospel to get more and more. Not to mention the crack epidemic of the 80s and the enviroment of fear brought on by the Cold War in full swing.

I just hope that an era creator who hasn't yet decided also finds the idea interesting.

Genius: the Transgression 2E is a thing that's being worked on.

I will mention again that Mongolian Empire would be fantastic as a created setting.

Some of the ideas I had for an expansion are being discarded, as I have to prioritize which Era I want to see the most. Unfortunately it is not a perfect world so my pitches for the following probably will never be officially sanctioned.

- Heresy of the Flame (Promethean in the Light of the Sun, Europe 1600s)
- Dreams of the Desert (Changeling in 1001 Nights)
- Echoes of Antiquity (Beast in the Shadows of the 7 Wonders)
- Disrupting Designs (Demon in the 7 Wonders)

Thoughts ripple out, birthing others

Are those the ones that you've narrowed down to? Those all seem like great ideas to me.

That's a crazy hard pick. I'm no Beast fan, but I feel like that game's redemption could easily be in a Hellenic setting (Begotten-as-Furies is a solid idea, and you have some of the most mythically resonant monsters ever then), but I think it's criminal for a 1600s Europe setting possibly already centered on Rudolf's court to not have the Golem in it. I personally feel like Demon is the weakest link of the bunch?

Remi. she/her. game designer.

I think Demon is the Strongest of the bunch, but that's just me. Demons and Changelings are both oath-binders, Demons and Prometheans have overlapping aesthetics, and the interaction of the Seven Wonders with Infrastructure is highly resonant. My inclination would be to go with Demon or Promethean. But all four are awesome.

Other way around I am afraid....those are the ones I pretty sure I am dropping from my potential suggestions.
Allow me to clarify.

Ah, I see. That is a pity, but it does make me curious as to the ones still being considered. If these are the ones that have already been removed from your list of potentials, I'm sure the ones still on it must be solid gold.
